Meeting Adjourned

March Flyout—The “Poker Run”

25 Aircraft and crews gathered at Galaxy For initial briefing and departure assignments

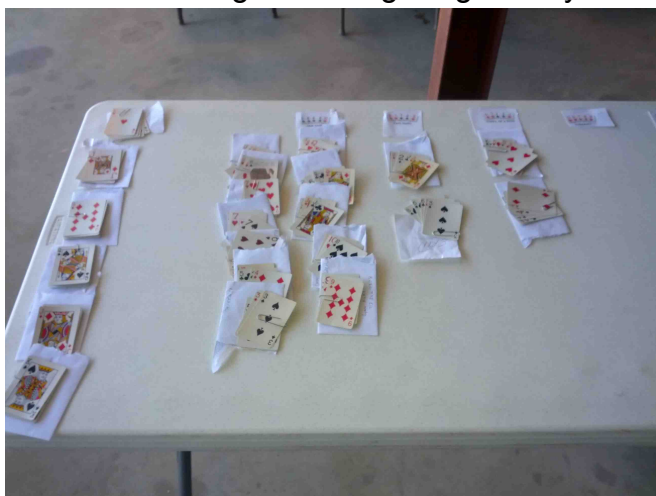

On arrival at LaGrange, the Indian Paintbrush were breaking out into full bloom!

The 99's were located in a flightline hangar While the burgers were grilling nearby

The reception committee took your 4 cards and issued you your fifth, then surveyed the hands.

The hands were laid out by rank—junk left (mine), 1 pair, 2 pair, 3 of a kind, etc

The winning poker player turned out to be Bill Donohoe's brother. He walked away with $75!

New Members Meet at McKenzie's

Saturday night, March 28th, following the Poker Run, about 30 EAA 302 members met At McKenzie's BBQ for nothing more than a social mixer. No business, no voting, no motions. Just getting acquainted—and most brought their wives too.

This is the “pet-project” of your President, Don Brewer and his staff. The regular meetings are pretty busy and Saturday time is scarce, so we hardly get to know the new members. This event was quite successful in getting some face-to-face time, and will probably be repeated in the near future.

APRIL FLYOUT
LaGrange Barbeque (3T5)
April 18, 2015 11:00 to 1:00
252 degrees, 85NM

The Central Texas Squadron, Chapter 1347, of the Experimental Aircraft Association and the host airport, Fayette Regional Air Center, jointly prepare a BBQ luncheon/fly-in quarterly for the local area residents and pilots from all over the state.

On good weather days, as many as 70 aircraft of different types fly to La Grange for the fellowship and excellent BBQ. At various times during the year, car clubs from Austin, Houston and Dallas also attend to show their prize vehicles from the Model T to the Ferrari and from the Corvette to the T-Bird.

Fayette Regional Air Center is a county/city operated airport so there are no fees or charge for admittance. However, a $7 donation is suggested for the luncheon. Serving is from 11 am to 1 p.m. for BBQ brisket, sausage, beans, salads and all the condiments, as well as ice tea and coffee.

Monetary donations and gifts go toward funding scholarships for local students entering into aviation-related studies. Thus far, $15,000 has been awarded through this unique, fun flying-related activity. Mark your calendar and come out and join us!

LSEA opens new, longer runway at Conroe airport

Dozens of community leaders and officials took advantage of the sunshine Monday as they gathered for the ribbon cutting of the recently completed runway extension at Lone Star Executive Airport.

The $17 million extension added 1,500 feet to Runway 1432. The Texas Department of Transportation funded about $15 million of the project, with the county pitching in about $2.5 million.

Monday, March 23, at 1:30 the airport staff set up a tent at the runup area for the extension of Runway 14. The event was the grand opening of the airport improvements. A copy of the Conroe Courier article is reprinted here for your review. All airport patrons were invited.

The land for the project, 40 acres in total, was donated by Gene and Judy Campbell, of Conroe, who officials thanked numerous times for the family's generosity.

"Gene and I got involved in this in the very beginning," Judy Campbell said. "We have been very honored to be a part of it and with the growth. Gene has been gone 10 years, but I know he is looking down and is so proud and happy with everything."

County Judge Craig Doyal said the runway extension is an asset to the entire county.

"This is a tremendous opportunity for Montgomery County and the city of Conroe," Doyal said. "It will enhance our opportunity for economic development. It is a perfect complement for the (Deison Technology Park) and the (Conroe Park North Industrial Park)."

Over the past 12 years, Doyal noted, there have been over $30 million invested in the airport.

"That is something we can all be proud off," he said.

Doyal also noted the runway will be a "huge factor" in the construction of a new customs facility that would allow international customers to fly directly into LSEA and pass through U.S. Customs, making it the farthest point north of Houston to allow international arrivals and departures. Construction of the facility would cost up to $2.4 million.

Precinct 1 Commissioner Mike Meador cited the collaborative effort of the county and state for making the project a reality.

"TxDOT had approved a 7,000-foot runway extension; (Commissioners Court) had the vision to go ahead and add 500 feet to it," Meador said. "It doesn't sound like a lot; but in airport construction, it is quite a bit."

"It has all come together. It's been coming for years."

Dave Fulton, director of TxDOT's Aviation Division, echoed Meador.

"We appreciate our partnership with (Meador), the Commissioners Court, the county judge and the citizens of this county making this airport what it is today," Fulton said. "This airport, in my mind, will soon be the airport of choice for corporate business aviation for certainly the north Houston area, if not the whole Houston area."

Freedom Flight was invited to open the activities. Runway 14/32 was closed for the event, as all the guests were driving to Taxiway AA from taxiway J. Freedom left the Initial Point at exactly 1:30 with 5 aircraft, and smoked the crowd.
