Ivan Wimp: Private Pilot !

Ivan Wimp started the new year right. January 4th he passed the flight test, earning his Private Pilot license.

It was an unusually cold, 20 degree, morning as Ivan did his preflight check on the MVP Cessna 150. At 8:30 AM he and instructor Danyel Cuellar lifted off for a flight to Holter Field (NE of College Station) where Ivan was scheduled to take the flight test. By noon the test was complete and Ivan was a Private Pilot. Congratulations Ivan!!!

Now, Ivan plans to work on his tail wheel skills with instructor Bryan Nickols. He says, "I just need a little more cross wind practice." (Don't we all!) Will he be in the Taylorcraft, Nieuport, or Mustang?

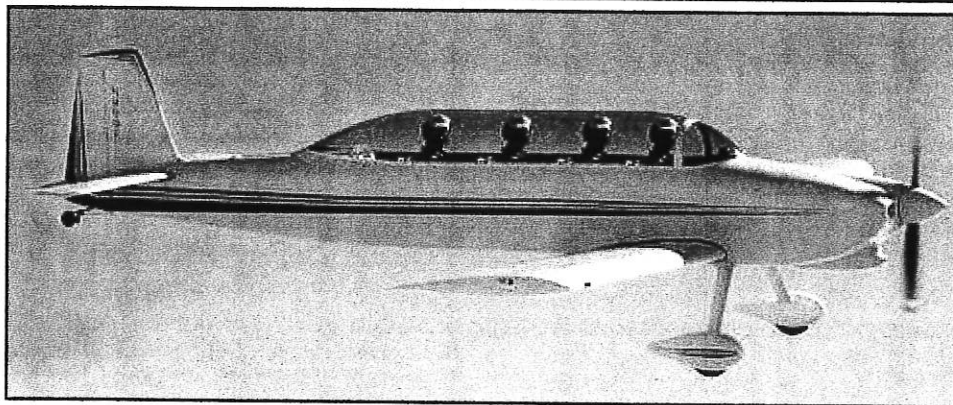

Watch out world, here comes Ivan!

January 12th Meeting:

- Bill Cotter will talk about the FAA Wings Program.
- Fly-Out after the meeting.
- Pay dues for 2002. Still just $18.00 and due now.

Spy Photo: The new 4 place RV-10

There is a new 4 place RV in the works. This photo appeared on the internet on a RV10 group's site, <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/rv10/>. (Actually, this is thought to be a photo by Doug Reeves and digitally altered by Alex Roup. It's not an RV-10.) (What would that canopy cost? Does it slide?)

Don Brewer has it all together, his Aircamper that is. This is just prior to covering all that beautiful wood. He now has all but the wing covered and that will be done as soon as we get a few warm days. He expects it to be at the airport this May.
